

YN900 video light using examples

I. Through the remote controller to control the video light

Just make the channel of the remote controller consistent to the video light can remote control the video light. (the video light in same channel will be synchronized adjustment)

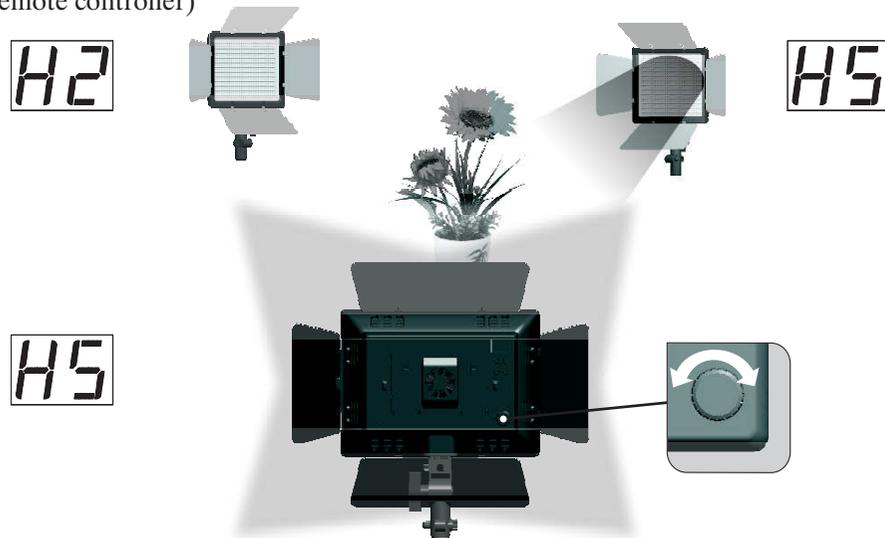

II. Mobile phone APP remote control the video light

Choose the channel you want to control on the mobile phone, then you can easily control the luminance and switch of the channel video light.

III. Through the video light to remote control other video lights

The video lights with the same channel can be synchronized control, just need to adjust one of the video lights, other video lights with the same channel will be synchronized. (This method is available for control the video light if missing the remote controller)

IV. The mobile phone read the current state of the video light

Choose the corresponding channel of the video light through the APP of the mobile phone can read the current color temperature and luminance of the video light.

